

Paul has been our dog sitter for years. I would never trust or feel great about leaving my fur babies with anyone else. When I leave the house, I return to it exactly the same way I left it. You never know he is there. He brings everything that he intends to use himself, including food, bedding, etc. I feel so blessed to have found him. Paul is definitely part of our family.

